Newsletter for January 2019

I wish I had good news to start the year. There are some things that may turn out well. In all probability, Feds will get a 1.9% salary increase retroactive to the first pay period of 2019. There have been no changes to Social Security and Medicare. Federal retirees and Social Security beneficiaries got a 2.8% increase in their checks for 2019 as required by law.

I can make no predictions as I have been wrong on most projections for the last 2 years. Our hope is that Feds start working again soon.

We will keep you informed about bills introduced in the House and the Senate as they occur.

I will be sending out newsletters as warranted. Our goal is to give you all the latest news. Things will get interesting quickly.
